JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1883.

The republicans have exchanged Jay | was perhaps a greater service than Cod-Hubbell and Dorsey for harmony. It was a good trade. Perpetual motion should not be forgotten. Where is Keely and his motor. There hasn't been anything said of them for more than a week.

There are several quite prominent men in both parties, that could be spared on a trip to the north pole. Let them join he next Polar expedition.

It will doubtless give the democrats the blues to know that the late republican convention in New York was the most harmonious known in that state for years. You see that the republicans do not propose to throw away any powder

Figures showing the national indubtelness of several countries have been published by the Boston Advertiser, and are as follows:

Total. Per Head.
The United States. $1,583,78,1825 $25.41
France. 4,800,550,500 108.23
United Kingdom. $1,615,229,500 108.23
Italy. 2,232,512,300 75.28
Italy. 2,102,252,554 35.70
Itassia. 2,500,605,515 133.41
Spain.

These figures are from the most reliable source, and may be considered very correct. It will be seen from this table that the United States is highly favored in debt matters.

The match monopoly has been broken, and badly, too. Since the first of July, when the interest tax was removed, match factories sprang up in all parts of the country. This compelled the Dismond match company, the largest in the westto reduce its prices. The rates now charged are only one-half as much as they were before the monopoly came to an end, as will be seen from the following comparative figures:

At these figures there is but a small margin left for the manufacturer, and very poor pay for the persons employed in the factories. But as the public demanded cheap matches, they get them at the expense, largely, of the men and the women, boys and girls, employed in mak-

Postmaster General Gresham has at last taken a course that will seriously orapple the Louisiana lottery. Ever since Mr. Gresham issued his circular which prohibited the postmaster at New Orleans from delivering registered letters and from paying money orders belonging to the Louisiana lottery, the business of the lottery has been done through the New Orleans national bank. Considering that this was a scheme to evade the provisions of the order issued in 1879 by Postmaster General Key, and re-issued by Mr. Gresham last spring, he has directed the postmuster at New Orleans not to deliver to the New Orleans national bank any registered letters or pay any money orders belonging to at. This seems to be an iron-clad order, and if carried out to the letter will very seriously cripple, if not entirely stop, the lottery

There is a divided sentiment in regard to the right or wrong of the course Mr. Gresham has taken. Those who are opposed to any lottery schemes, applaud the stern course he has taken, and those who are perfectly willing to buy lottery tickets and abide by the result, prize or no prize, condemn the order. There is no doubt that the Louisiana lottery is as honest an organization of the kind as the very best of them, and no one has ever lodged complaints that there was any rick or dishonosty in the drawings. The esult of this stringent order on the part of the postmaster general, will be watched with interest. If this order comes without malice toward Mr. Dauphin, the manager of the Louisiana lottery, and is aimed at all lotteries, we presume Mr. Gresham will direct his darts at other lottery companies. Let us see whether he will make fish of one or flesh of an-

The republicans of Mussachusetts made an excellent nomination when they put Judge Robinson at the head of the ticket. The convention was a very harmonius one, and the general spirit which controlled the convention indicated that the republicans would unite as one man to carry the state. Judge Robinson is a very popular man, and if it is in the power of the republicans to defeat the demoerats, he is the man that can do it. But Governor Butler is a hard man- to beat. A man who takes it upon himself to run against him, must have courage, popularity, and a record that cannot be assailed. There must be a clear courseso far as he and the declarations of the party are concerned. For this reason we believe very much as the Inter Ocean does, that it was a mistake to place so good a man as Judge Robinsin in the position of defending the Tewksbury horrors, and it will be found a serious and heavy load for him to carry before the campaign is over "It is a pity that wretched affair could not have been kept out of the convention, but it was dragged in by the chairman, a party bearing the acquatic name of Codman, who put the exposare and reformation of outrageous and inhuman abuses in the light of a crusade against the fair fame of Massachusetts. It was a mistake, too, for the Codman to attack General Butler's military record He had better have left that to the rebels. When the cry for troops went up General Butler was one of the first to respond. and to him the country owes at least the saving of Maryland to the Union. That | minutes when it explored.

man ever performed for his country."

There is no one who means to be fairminded that will excuse the Towksbury horror. The persons engaged in it should have been sent for a term of years to prison. It was proper to expose the inhumanity of the meserable scoundrels who perpetrated the crimes at Tewksbury, and Butler should be thanked for the course he took. If the republicans shall let this Tewksbury matter drop, so far as censuring Governor Butler is concerned, not try to attack his military record, but send their shot, hot and plenty of it, in the ranks of the democratic party, Massachusetts will be redeemed from the power of the democrats.

TERRIBLE DISASTER.

Boiler Explosion at Pittsburg, With Awful Results.

Three Men Killed, Four Mortally Wounded and Others Injured---Four Little Children Among the Victims .- . Details of the Disaster. Physicus, Pa., Sept. 21.—Soon after 1 o'clock p. m. an upright boiler in the flange department of Phillips, Nimick & Co.'s mill exploded, instantly killing three men, fatally injuring two others, and wounding more or less seriously fifteen others. The smoky air over the whole lower part of the city was put in violent commotion, and for a radius of half a mile windows were broken or rattled in their cases. Those who were near the western river front had scarcely recovered from the shock when a huge hulk, shaped like an enormous bottle, was seen rising swiftly in the air to a height nearly parallel with the top of Metat Weshington, curving as it flew, until it reached a point directly over the Monongahela. Here it decorred assumed the perpendicular and dropped straight as an arrow into the river. The water was violently agitated for hundreds of yards around, and mud and stones were tossed from the bed of the river up on to the Smithfield street imidge, fifty yands away. The falling object was the whole upper half of an upright boiler from the flango mill of Phillips, Nichiek & Co., located on the south, side, three squares from the Lake Prin denot, and between Carson the Lake Eric depot, and between Carson street and the river. A huge cloud of dust and smoke filled the air in the vicinity and carried with it flying timbers and pieces of machinery, while the neighborhood was treated to a shower of redwhich set fire to a dozen buildings, and caused rapidly succeeding first and second alarms to be sent in from box The department responded promptly. The Eagle engine boys were ready before the the magic engine buys were ready before the notice came, being warned by the shaking of the building and by seeing a man on top of a neighboring building knecked down by the concussion following the explosion. Arrively, the content of the content ing on the ground they found thousands of people there ahead of them, fighting the fire on every hand, and reconneitering the seene of the explosion. The police began moving about the same time, and while the firemen were running their hose lines the officers stretched ropes in every direction to keep back the crowd. Next carne a call for volunteers to search for the dead and wounded. A thousand more than could find room sprang forward as one man. They were workmen from the sarrounding mills, who knew every men that had been employed in the flange mill. The wreck was a surprise to even those who had witnessed many similar disasters. The boiler that had caused it was of the upright pattern, known as the Douglass patent. It was heated by the waste from the heating furnace in the flange mill. It stood outside of the building, and was uncovered, even by a shed. The flange mill between it and the railroad was a building 70x40 feet, and was an iron-clad structure. With the explosion the building entirely disappeared, and a man could have stepped over the highest wall loft standing. Great pieces of machinery used in stumping out Leiter beads were overlurned and broken as if they had been made of clay. At the time of the explosion the mon in this department had not yet taken their places, or they would have been blown to atoms. South of this building, at a distance of twenty feet, was the blacksmith shop, a large two story brick structure. Of this the two walls nearest to where the boiler stood were blown down for a distance of thirty feet each way, while the entire western half of the roof was carried away. The Lako Erie carpenter shops and lie yardmaster's office suffered severely. A large section of heavy steam pipe 25 feet long, with its attachments, followed by a ton of red-hot fire-brick from the furnace, which itself was entirely demolished, crushed down through the building and set it on fire instantly. The fire department soon had the fires extinguished, and then the digging for the bodies began. John W. Allen, the fire-man, was taken out with the whole of his head gone, and soon after the body of Charles Douglass, foreman of the shop, and inventor of the boiler, was found. Half of his head had been carried away, and he was fearfully mangled by the falling walls under which he was buried. John Geoghegan, a teamster was struck by a piece of the boiler. His body was scalded, and he died in twenty industes. Lewis House

The boiler was an upright, : feet in diameter, and was split into four fragments, the largest being blown 200 feet, landing in the middle of the Monongabela river. It is not known what caused the exdosion. It was just after dinner hour and the steam had been turned on only a few

THE NEW YORK PRESS.

Effect on it of the Arrival of One Western Man. New York, Sept. 21 .- "Gath" says refer-

ing to the late reduction of price of the Times and Tribune: What is now going on in New York City is the Westernizing of its press. One western man arrived here about three months ago, and he has kicked 50 per cent. out of the New York Times already. On all questions of this class I mean to be entirely frank, and so I will say that morals no less than gain are at the bottom of the publicaion of the large and respectable papers for the price of the small and mendacious We have literally been ridden to leath here by the two-cent press, as it has een. Mon appointed by Providence to liva the use of a pair of seissors and a postle of gum have been exercising all the nerogatives of Sancho Panza on Barataria or Geslor in Switzerland. A president of the United States comes to New York, and the onse of hospitality of these people, who are not Hostentots, to say the least, has been outaged by seeing his portrait printed with the aged by seeing its portrate printed with the word "Fraud" engraved upon his brow. He stands by oath, by a double law, for us, not is himsolf. His character is ours, not his, Var ha is measured as the bar word. Yet he is ongraved so that he can see it, not we, with a brand upon his forehead. Thus he political passions which retired before the dea of civil war are kept alive by the old cent press. Naturo meant to give it a esson, and soon flashed it with two other 2ent papers, one of them apparently bidding for more license, and the other for more lecency. The readers can take their choice. The age of intolerant and mendacious editocial opinion is about done. Mon who write nust produce facts, and be reasoning beings, and respect the views of their betters. The nfluence has been conceeded to the press of recompanying the government with intellirencound criticism, and of protection for publications intended to convey the unmali-tious truth; but the power of setting up ourts to try government causes and of leading the government investigations and taking possession of them is an encroachment no government based on the people will permit. it is worse than star chamber government, because its only victory and object is to convict and degrade somebody. Jarvis went squir John Jarvis, a noighbor. Jarvis went squirrel hunting, and returning passed a building on which Bonny was with two negroes at work as he approached Bonny said: "Well, what game did you get?" "Oh, I got some," he replied, irawing a tickler out of his bird-bag.
"Won't you try some of it?" "I don't care it
I do," said Bonny and he reached for the I do," said Bouny, and he reached for the tickler and put it into his mouth. As he did tickler and put it into his mouth. As no did so Jarvis stepped back and cocked his gun. "Look out there, Mr. Jarvis. Be more careful how you handle that gun, or you are going to shoot somebody," exclaimed one of the negroes. Bouny humed toward Jarvis and said: "Why, hock how. Jarvis wan must mean to shoot curned toward Jarvis and said: "Wily, took here, Jarvis, you must mean to shoot momebody." "I do," replied Jarvis. "I mean to kill you," and raised his gun and fired, the charge striking Bonny full in the heart and killing him instantly. Jarvis then coolly walked of to his house, got comething to act. walked off to his house, got something to eat and departed with his gun on his shoulder. the is thought to have taken refuge in a swamp which is almost impenetrable.

In Madrid and all the principal towns with garrisons, every night extra precautions are taken, and the police are ever on the alert, because the government has received information from its diplomatic consular agonts in France, Germany, and Austria, especially Switzerland, to the effect that Ruiz Zorilla, and other exiles are con coeting and preparing actively another rising it to take place, unless checked in time, before King Alfonso returns to Spain, and probably during his stay at Homburg. Surrendered Himself.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—F. R. Callahan sur-rendered bimsolt to the police of this city. He is 27 years old, and the son of a promineut Washington contractor, of the firm of Wise & Callahan. The young man became a letter carrier at the nation's capital, and pursued this calling for three years. Last winter he was caught in the act of opening lotters addressed to the Louisiana State Lottery company. He was on a preexamination, held under l. Bonds were furnished liminary $1,500 bail. Bonds were furnished but shortly afterwards his bondsmen surrendered him, and for seven weeks he was incarcerated in the district jail. On a new bond he was released. He fled to the west. Unable to secure work, and doeming imprisonment preferable to misery, he deteruined to give himself up. He will be held until the Washington authorities can be heard from, and, if his story is correct, as it is believed to be, Callahan will be sent back to the capital to stand his trial.

Mc-Cullagh, of The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, who was onjoying the conversation of the atfable second part of the "old ticket." "Tariff for revenue, Congressman Frank Hurd tells mo, is to be the slogan in his state." "Tariff for revenue only," quietly remarked

Mr. Hendricks. "You must not torget that little adverb, on which hinges the great issue hetween the two parties."

Fled to Their Cellars. Madison, Wis., Sept. 21-A heavy storm was seen approaching this city from the west and the appearance of the clouds betokened danger, many people ran into cellars for safety. COLORED POLITICS.

Independent Colored Men Try to Hold a Convention at Columbus, Ohio, but are Captured by the Regulars.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 21.—A state convention of colored voters was held here, ostensibly to elect four delegates to the convention of independent colored voters at Louisville, Sept. 24, not it was the occasion for a territic contest between the Democrats and Republicans to capture the convention. The convention was a mass meeting rather than by delegates, and it was called for I o'clock. There were over 250 men from different parts over the men from amercut parts of the state, and most of those from a distance were colored Democrats. A few of the colored people had been organized by the agents of the Republican state committee to come enmasse and toko possession, adopting strong resolutions for the Republican ing strong resolutions for the Republican state licket, and run things generally to suit thouselves. The Democratic faction of the colored men remained on all night to arrange for calling the convention to order at 10 o'clock, which they did, selecting H. A. Clark, of Cincinnati, aspermant delignate. R. A. Lanks of Claredond selecting H. A. Clark, of Cheenmat, aspermanent chairman. R. A. Jones, of Cleveland, was their temporary quairman. They rushed things through, and were having it their way when the Republican colored men, who had heard of it, came rushing into the city hall and a tradity nucleit assure! It being a hall, and a terrifle racket ensued. It being a mass convention, no colored men could be ex-cluded. The Independents fought gallantly until nearly 1 o'clock, when relief was secured by taking a recess. On reassembling the Independents were outnumbered two to one. They said they could not get the reports of any of their committees adopted, but this was not all. The other fellows took the thing in hand and carried through with a hurrah a motion to reconsider the report of the committee on permanent organization, and proceeded to reorganize the convention throughout. Then Chairman Clark and his friends said they would withdraw to another hall, which they did. Rev. James Poindexter was made chair man. Strong resolutions were adopted, indorsing "the grand old Republican party" as one to which they owed an everlasting debt of gratitude, and it was decided not to send any delegates to Louisville, but to notify that convention that Ohio colored mendid not approve of the Douglass independent movement. Those who retired continued the organization adepted resolutions condemning the Republican party in general and their agents in capturing the convention in particular, and ap-pointed four delegates to the Louisville A state committee convention. this with headquarters city, to look after the independ-Speeches ent moment in this campaign. were made condemning Foraker as taking fees to plead against colored people under the civil-rights law, and endorsing Judge Hoadly as an anti-slavery man. NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—An important event in telegraphic circles was the formal opening of the Central and South American Telegraph company's lines to Brazil, connections with the United States being made via Galveston, Tex. Cheaper rates will at once be inaugurated, and it is anticipated a lively business will spring up between the two great sections of the western hemisphere. Various gentlemen in official position and prominently identified with the business interests of the country have expressed a desire to send their sentiments over the wires upon this occasion, and among others the following was forwarded: "From President Arthur to the emperor of Brazil: The president and government of the United States salute the emperor and people of Brazil through the new channel of direct communication between the two countries, opened via Galveston and Valparaiso, and see in these multiplied links of intercourse assurance that the happy relations between them will continue and increase to the material benefit of both peoples and countries." ANOTHER FRISCO SCANDAL.

den. Winfleld Scott Royce Seeking a Divorce from His Handsome Wife. San Francisco, Sopt. 21.—Gen. Winfield Scott Keyes, son of the celebrated Gen. Yoyes, has applied for a divorce from his wife on the ground that she was already the wife of James O'Brien Kelly, of Sweet Chaiybeate Springs, Va., when he married her, which fact was unknown to him at the time. Mrs. Keyes, who is an exceedingly bandsome woman and prominent socially in this city, indignantly denies the charge. She says Cen. Keyes knew all the circumstances of her acquaintanceship with Kelly, and that he only married her after satisfying himself that she had not been proviously married. She says she can show that her hasband wrote Kelly warning him not to barass his wife, Mrs. Keyes, by any pretensions of a previous marriage. When Gen. Keyes first saw his present wife he became so enamored of her that he persuaded his former wife to consent to be from him, which she immediately agreed to. The social prominence of the parties invests the case with much interest. It will be tried in the superior court in a few weeks.

A number of promi nent men, including soldiers of the Mexican war, were present. The ceremonies were very imposing. Gen. James A. Ekin, U. S. A. (retired) called the meeting to order, and prayer followed, by Bishop Kavanaugh, of the Methodist church. Gen. William Preston, a veteran of the Mexican war, then took the stand, and in a few happy remarks introduced Gen. Thomas L. Crittenden, U. S. A., a member the stand of the s of Gen. Taylor's military family in Mexico, who delivered a fervid eulogy. At the con-clusion of his remarks "America" was sung by the audience, after which Rev. Dr. Perkins, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, pronounced the benediction. The flag covering the monument, which is of marble, thirty feet high, surmounted by the statue of Gen. Taylor, was then removed. The Mexican veterans formed about the base and were photographed when the ceremonies closed.

The Stratford Mystery.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 21.—The jury of inquest in the Rose Ambler case has adjourned to await the recovery of the inquest stenographer, who is ill. There are no new developments as yet. Young Lewis is under strict surveillance. The spirit world has been invoked in the Rose Ambler case. The coroner has received a letter, in which the writer says that she has within a short time received a spiritual com-munication from Rose Clark Ambler, stating: "I was murdered by Lowis, a negro."

Fierce Attack on the Villard Prop-· in-ertios -in New-York---Sustained by the Banks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.-Wall street brokers and speculators went down-term expecting to see a great drop in the Villard stock. The bears had made a great onslaught on them on Tacstay and they had closed very real on Luckay night. Northern Panile preferred and Oregon. & Transontinental proved a net decline for that day of about five points cook. There was great excitement at the opening of the stock exchange and lit least apparent that there was an organized offert on the part of the hears to drive the price of the Villard stocks still lower. In the first half-hour the success of the viscos of the vis success of the realiff was marked and important declines were recorded in both the proferred and common stock of the Northern Pacific Raffrond company, and also in Oregon & Transcontinental. The Northern Pacific preferred group was the great point of attraction, and rarely have livelier scenes been enacted bulbs stock exchange. At the end of half introduced by however, it became evident that isome one was sustaining the stock. Toward noon another and even more fierce raid twist made. This time it extended to other than the Miller technique the house attacking both the Villard stocks, the boars attacking both Union Pacific and Contral Pacific. Loui-ville & Nashville also broke, and the market declined from 1/2 of 1 per cent, to 2 per cent, It was then reported that Drexel, Morgan It was then reported that Drexel, Morgan & Co were sustaining the Villard securities, and it seemed evident that somebody was doing so, for a rally set in from 2 o'clock until the close of wastases. Prices generally advanced, and in the Villard properties the losses of the earlier hours were required. It is said the cause of hours were regained. It is said the cause of the bear raid was the expectation that the Northern Pacific annual report would show a very bad condition of affairs, and that the rally was in consequence of the sup-port given by Drexel, Morgan & Co, and also a more favorable report of the condition-of the company than had been expected. An rumor had the most depressing effect and the bears took advantage of it to put out alarming statements concerning Union Facilic and Central Pacific, all of which helped to demortions in Villard stocks were very hoavy, there being sold of Northern Pacific preferred 129,-149 shares, of the common stock 33,730, and of the Oregon & Transcontinental 68,909 shares. The total number of shares sold during the day was 478,295. POLITICAL POINTS.

persons interested in the management of the Villard property have for some reason or other thrown overboard their holdings. This

The Boston Press on the Late Con-. Neution ... Other Notes. Euston, Sept. 21.—The comments of the Massachusetts press on the Republican conreution are based ontirely on the political predilections of their owners. The Ropublican journals of all shades warmly indorse Mr. Robinson and the platform on which he stands. The Butler organs stamp the caudithat a second Bishop, and predict his over-whichming defeat, and the one straight Demo-cratic journal in sight, The Boston Post, contents itself with saying that the convention, was an interesting body, characterized by commendable cornestness and enthusiasm.

Tolepo, Sept. 21.—Senator John Sherman and A.J. Morrison, of Chicago, spoke to an indicate of 5,000 people at the opera house upon the issues of the coming political contest in Ohio. The principal questions dis-cussed were the Scott law and the buril'. The points made by each speaker were that the prohibitory amendment was a wise and just provision.

Buckeus, O., Sopt. 21.—Crawford county Democrats held a grand rally here, assisted by adjoining counties. About 4,000 people were present. Speeches were made by Gen. Warren, of Marietta; J. E. Powell and Judge Follett, of Delaware; George L. Converse, of olumbus, and Senator Tipton, of Nebruska. The speeches were chiefly on the subject of

The members of the committee generally are very enthusiastic about the reall of the next election.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 21 .- The colored state convention, which met here to appoint delegates to the national convention, was very slimly attended, only three counties being represented. Fifteen delegates to the Louisville convention were appointed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 .- A mass meeting is being arranged by a number of prominent business men, and other Democrats, to take place at Cooper institute, the purpose being to urge upon the Democratic factions the necessity of harmony.

Sensational Story.
Vincennes, Iad., Sept. 21.—Joseph Ritchey, an old citizen of Chauncey, Lawrence county. III. allows, this he was a county. rence county, Ill., alleges that he was robbed and his wife killed on a palatial steamer on the Ohio river, not long since. Himself and wife were visiting friends in West Virginia, and upon their return boarded a steamer and were robbed by negro servants of the boat just before the craft arrived at Cheimnati. Pudding was served to Ritchey and his wife, and both were taken ill on their arrival at the Queen city. Emetics effectually cured Ritchey, but after four days of horrible torture the lady died. Ritchey is crazed with grief, and is bardly able to give an intelligible account of his trouble, but says that the captain of the boat refused his protection. On secount of his age and the distance from the scene of the outrage, no prosecution is coutemplated.

A Pensioner and His Money.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 21.—Mr. Joseph. Minick, an old soldier, who had justice reived a pension of $1,000, looked about for a good place to invest his money. He had heard that a Polk City, Iowa, hotel was for sale. He took the train for Polk City, and immediately closed the bargain by paying $500 down. The remaining $450 he put in his pocket. On retiring he thought nothing of the cash, but laid his pants, which contained the money, on a sale to find the took are one had antered. chair, only to find that some one had entered his room and took his money. The fending importance to their ideas. The fight will begin at the threshold of the convention over the organization. The Dooglass party will nominate him for president, and he will be antagonized by Mr. Forture, the editor of The New York Globe. Thus the relative strength of the two fac-tions will be tested at the outset. Mr. Douglass will undenbiedly be elected, it is thought here, and with him in the chair the straight Republicans do not believe that any very revolutionary netion can be taken. The Troubles in Croation. WAR TO THE KNIFE. President Arthur is the guest of Seth The Pan Handle Dreps the Rate Between Lonisville and Chicago To One Dollar. Chicago, Sopt. 21.—After forty-eight hours' truce in the Louisville-passenger way. hostilities have been savagely resumed by the dropping of the rate at the Pan Handle office to $1. This was not entirely unexpeeled, for there was evidence that an amicable settlement was well-nigh impossihas been steadily maintained, awaiting the result of a kind or long-range peace conference between the heads of the peace conference between the nears of the two combating lines. Various propositions were submitted by both, but neither was willing to make concessions demanded by the other. The Pan Handle demanded that the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago people take their tickets out of the hands of brokers, and such a proposition was regarded by the latter as highly presumptive, in that it sought to overturn a custom which has always been in vogue in Chicago, and is very gen recognized as legitimate. erally recognized as legitimate. New Albany people then turned upon their opponents, accusing them of making no their opponents, accusing them of rabs via effort to secure a maintenance of rates via the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, working over the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis line, a part of the Pennsylvania system. The Pan Handle asserted its inability to control the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, while the other retorted that it could if it had any desire to. As soon as it should become apparent that no agreement could be arrived at, the Pan Handle was ready to stop skirmishing and to drop the price at once to a mero nominal figure. The Louisville, New Albany & Chicago people announce their determination to meet any rate of the Pan-Haudle, and they have also dropped to $1. They say that they have no desire to cut under the Pan-Handle, because it is not necessary. The war was inaugu-rated by the other line, and each initial stepmust be taken by it. All hope of a compro-mise is lost by this last cut, and the question now resolves itself into a mere matter of endurance of such a disastrous state of affairs by the respective lines. - Both seem determined, and neither is lacking in practically unlimited resources. The public in the meantime will flit between Chicago and Louisville at the expense of the railroad companies without caring how or when the bostilities shall be brought to an end. SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Dr. Fishblatt has devoted 20 years to the study and treatment of Chronic Diseases, and his experience in the hospitals in New York, where he has successfully treated over 10,000 cases of Chronic Catarrh, Serofulous Diseases and Diseases of the Genito Unionary Ogans, has given him a reputation that is world wide.

Dr. Fishblatt

Has discovered the greatest cure in the world for weakness of the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general dobility, nervousness, languag; confusion of ideas, paleness of sight or guidiness; diseases of the thront, ness or skin, affections of the liver, langs stomach, or bowels,—those terrible disorders arising from solitary practice more fatal to their victims than the songs of the sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most radiant hopes or articipations; rendering marriage impossible.

bility or any other disqualifications speedily relieved. He who places himself under the care of Dr. Fishblatt may religiously confide in his bonor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

Organic WEAKNESS:

Immediately cared and full vigor restored. This affliction—which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victim of improper indulence. Young persons are apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands this subject will deny that procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Essides being deprived of the pleusagras of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both mind and body arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, less of procreative power, nervous irritability dyspepsis, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, wasting of the frame, cough, consumption and death

Particular Notice.

Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and softency habits, which rains both mind and body, unfitting them for business, study, society, narriage. These are some of the sad, melanchely effects produced by the early habits of youth, namely. Wonkness in the hack and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of musical power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, debility consumption, etc.

My heart to-day is like a summer flower

Which lifts its blooming chalice to absorb

Sweet odors from the air. For, like a flower. My heart absorbs the fiery life that dwells Within the blossoming matter of the world And maked strength of nature. Here, where earth Seems peaceful as a dreamer's paradise, I trace the movement of the universe, The splender that inspires the thought of

inan,
And glory that outshines the fancy. Here
I learn the clear and simple speech of truth,
And feel the buoyant spirit of forest birds
That fill a whole bright summer with their song. I lock upon the old world as a child

Looks with a vague and tender trust upon its mother's face; and, strangely moved, I see Beyond the beauty of familiar things, As one may see into another's beart With the fine sense of love.

No barsh voice falls Along the solemn quietude of the air. Yet I can hear faint voices, which are like Echo of ensear music; there is speech in the molodious breeze, and there is song Within the soft hush of the languarous noon— Song that would rose like thunder if the car Song that would roar like thunder if the car Could catch its undertone. The fire and stir Of a dardalian impulse throb beneath The outward slumber of a life which is Sleepless and overlasting. There is not A leaf, a rose, a tree, nor animate thing Which does not add a language to the world; And I, that am a part of earth and sky, Feel that divinity and kinship born Of truth and noble knowledge. Oh, I love To watch the pageant of the world unroll, To search within its sorcery, and to drink Its wild onchantment, even as men were wort.

PREPARING SEALSKINS.

THE COLORING ALL DONE IN ENGLAND-MONOTONOUS WORK FOR CHILS. In a small, gloomy room at the top of a dingy building in a down town street eight girls sat yesterday working stolidly. The light seemed dusty and hot as it shone dimly through the soctincrusted window panes, and the rumble of machinery below jarred the floor incessantly. The girls sat in little groups. They were shabbily clad, groups. They were shabbily clud, though there were touches of bright color here and there, and their faces all...locked pinched and care-worn. Their backs were bent in a weary way as they leaned over the work. Each girl held a sealskin stretched across her lap, and picked at it with great rapidity. Their hands were the black. They seldom spoke, and when black. They seldom spoked at him a stranger entered they looked at him listlessly for a moment, and then dropped their eyes on their work again.

"They are picking the long black hairs out of the skin;" said the foreman, rubbing his hand over one of the glossy pieces of fur. "We get all of our scalskins from London, where they are taken direct from the Arctic regions. Scalskins cannot be colored outside of England. They not only bave a peculiar process there, but the climatic influences result in better coloring than can be done here. So the skins go to England first. After they have been colored they are shipped all over the world and made into sacques, dolmans, muffs, gloves, and hats, when they arrive at their destination."

"Why are the long black hairs you speak of not taken out in London?"

"Well, I don't know that there is any articular reason except the economical one. The London concerns charge quite heavily for the work, and the result is we prefer to do it here where it doesn't cost as much. It does not require highly skilled labor. The black hairs you see are not so very much longer than the rest of the fur. There is a difference of perhaps a sixteenth of an inch. By blowing against the grain of the fur the black hairs can all be made to stand out."

"How many hours do the girls work a day?" "They come at 7 o'clock and leave at 6. They are paid fair wages. Of course they do not make their fortunes, but still the pay is fair."

"Monotonous work?"
"Oh, it's overpowaringly so," said the chatty foreman, shrugging his shoulders impatiently. "The incessant picking almost drives me mad at times; but then I suppose it's worse for the girls."

Dyspepsia dampens the ardor of many an aspiring soul. Why suffer from dyspepsia? Why be frightened over disordered kidneys? Why continue the misermental and physical distress.

YOLCANIC THEORIES.

THE SUPPOSED REASONS WHY THE EARTH HAPPENS TO "BURST HER BOILER." Chicago Inter Ocean,

The accepted theory of volcanic disturbances and earthquakes is like this: The interior of the earth is like a great reservoir, as it were, of molten matter at white heat. Hottest at the centre, this great mass of fluid fire is gradually cooling on the outer edges, and as it cools there is contraction of the immediate outer crust, and as a result cracks, breaks, and it may be quakes. If the chemical equilibrium of the interior is disturbed by the introduction of some foreign or dynamic material there is an upheaval or an explosion.

If the crack or break in the inner crust should take place under the sea, or in the bottom of a lake or river, the water rushing down through the crevice becomes at once a great disturber of the molten sea beneath. Steam is generated, the mass in the interior is expanded, and, seeking vent, rushes out with tremendous force at the openings in the mountain ridges known as craters, or breaks through the earth's crust at the most vulnerable point and forms a new crater.

For example, suppose there is a small leak in the Pacific occan near the Sandwich islands. A little water forces its way through to the hot juterior and furnishes steam enough to set the vol-canoes there in motion. Once the impulse is given, immense quantities of lava are thrown out, and this in turn leaves a vacuum, which, in the course of the cooling process, causes a sinking of a considerable section of the bottom of the ocean. If this is accomplished without a break in the crust all goes well, but if there is a break, and a large one, there will be general volcanie disturbances, and the volcanoes nearest the scene of subsidence will pour forth steam, mud, dead rish, and ultimately askes and

The foundations will be removed from great sections of coal, rock, and iron, and they will tumble in to feed the flames. 'If they should be composed of explosive materials the vol-cano will go off like a tremendous Catling gun in a running fusilade of thundering peals, and great sections of rock | Three BEAUTIFUL Lithographs; will be hurled scores of miles. As the eruption continues the mountain itself at mass closing the vent for a time and compelling the explosive forces below to find new point of issuance. This is the theory of volcanic cruptions and earthquakes in a nutshell, but there are modifications to suit special cases. It may happen, the theorists say, that the water following rock dissures down to the depth of great heat, may strike an unbroken extent of solid rock hot enough to turn the water into steam. In such a case the steam will be returned through the fissure to the earth's surface and there will be formed a geyser.

ENTERPRISING DAKOTA CIRLS. Now, as regards the gentler sex who came here to 'hold down' their claims. says a Dakota letter to The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. All over the territory you will find these little shanties. In many of them stylish and prefty young ladies take up a night's lodging once every month or oftener. I have seen numbers of misses from the east-ern states who are but here "holding down" a quarter section. MEDICAL DISPENSARY-Dr. Fishblatt this line. has taken a long lease on the residence of Mrs. Peter Myors, on East Milwankee street, for his family, and will open a large dispensary in the city of Janesville next month, October, and make his future home here, and as soon as he can find a suitable place he will build. Due notice of his opening his office will appear in his column advertisement.

To THE PUBLIC-The undersigned has leased for a term of years, a part of the block formerly used by Hogoboom & Atwood on West Milwaukee street, and has opened a lumber yard where I will have better facilities for handling lumber than ever before. A side track of the Northwestern road now runs into the yard, which will save to persons purchasing lumber of me the expense of hauling with teams to the central part of the city. Persons wishing to purchase lumber are respectfully requested to call and examine my stock and prices at the new yard, before making purchases elsowhere. After the stock at the old yard on River street has been closed out, my business will all be transferred to the new place of business an West Milwaukee street. Office at the new yard is with Caurles Atwood Co. A. E. BURPER. Janesville, Sept. 15th, 1883.

-To-day Mr. Herman Buchholz completed and shipped to Messra. Whitmer & Co., of Richmond, Missouri, one of his handsome wagenettes, and another to booths, etc., on the Rock county fair Independence. Iowa, for the use of the insane asylum at that place. These venoon, September 24th 2 p. m. on the hicles are becoming very popular with livery; they are beautiful in design, and the workmanship is of the best. Mr. Buchholz is doing a good business in ly at the Northern fair at Oshkosh. They received the following premiums on their Clydesdales: One first premium on aged stallion; one first on 3 years old; one lst ors in trying to accomplish the same reon 2 years old; one 1st on 1 year old; one 1st on 3 years old mare; 1st and 2d on 2 years old mares; one 1st on 1 year old mare. They also took the sweepstake premium for best horse and best mare on the ground. This is success that is decidedly flattering.

-Mr. Ogden H. Fethers returned from Noilsville this morning before daylight, where he delivered the annual address before the Clark county fair yes torday. Dispatches to the morning papers say it was an eloquent effort, and was enthusiastically received by 3,000 people. KENT'S ENTERPRISE.

His New Corn Planter Shops Completed on North Main Street.

the Shop-etc, etc.

The Triumph and Paragen Corn

Planter. The buildings for the manufacture of the Kent corn planters, north of the railway embankment on North Main street, have been completed, and Mr. A. C-Kent now has a force of men busy putting up the machinery, and getting ready for the season's work. The location for -The Rev. J. B. Soule and wife, of the shops is one of the best that could be selected; the main building is 36x60 feet, two stories high, to which is added an annex 18x25, also two stories in height, and a boiler house 16x30. The main building is divided up into departments for the convenience of the manufacture of the celebrated Kont corn planters, and is to be supplied with the best of machinery. Ho is now putting in a 40-horse power boiler, and a 20-horse power ufright engine, all new. The shops have a capacity to complete six hundred hand corn planters and ten horse corn planters per day, and will furnish omployment for thirty hands. We visited these shops last evening, and after looking over the building, Mr. Kent exhibited us his patent hand for the manufacture of which this institution was specially gotten up. This hand planter machine has been in successful operation for the past five years, during which time he has sold over two hundred thousand of his celebrated Triumph planters, but the great success, or what promises to be the greatest success ever attained in the corn planter line, is his Automatic horse corn planter. This machine drops and covers the corn much the same as other horse corn planters, but it has a device in the center which operates the droppers and drops the corn so absolutely accurate in check, that in dropping hundreds of rows eighty rods long each, not one inch of variation can be discovered. Aside from its dropping automatically and consequently needing no ground to be marked; no extra man to operate the droppers; no checkrow wire to be stretched with care across the field, it has many other advantages. All the working parts are suspended below the frame in such a manuer that they are raised with a lever a foot above the ground when turning round or moving from one field to another, and it has a device which leaves a mark by which you can see that you are planting in check. It is the neatest appearing planter we have ever seen, and is no more expensive than the common kind with wire checkrower.

This machine is to be in operation at the Rock county fair at Janesville. Oct. 2d to 5th m competition with wire check. rowers and will be of great interest to -The Galbraith Brothers did splendid- those interested in that line of business it being the only successful machine of the kind in the market, though thousands of dollars have been expended by inventsult. We have it as the opinion of our agricultural implement men who have seen it work, that it will be the leading horse corn planter of the country.

We understand Mr. Kent has been offered fifty thousand idollars for half interest in his patent. We bespeak for him as good success in his Automatic horse corn planter (The Paragon) as he has achieved with his hand planter the Tri-this city next Tuesday, Sopt. 25th.

This enterprise, consisting of eight shows consolidated into one, comprising three full circus companies into three rings, a museum of living curiosities, two double menageries, a big elevated stage and the great Roman hippodrome, s transported upon a railroad train of a mile in length, employs over 600 people in handling, requires a tent covering eight acres of ground, capable of seating 20,000 persons, with two other tents each 300 feet long. The exhibition is given in three rings, a stage and hippodrome track forty feat wide and nearly half a mile

In presenting this stupendous collecaround. tion of novelties to the public, Messrs. Barnum, Bailey & Autohnson, with the enterprise that has characterized its collection, will avoid all the old teatures lection, will avoid all the old features beretolore presented, and introduce very many new and startling performances. Among the prominent features of the show, aside from the colossal Jumbo, the baby elephant and mother and other rare primals may be remained the attracture and animals, may be named the attractive and thrilling Roman chariot races, male and female jockey races, hurdle, flat and steeple chase races, the laughable obstacle race and many other kinds of sports and contests. Besides all this, there will be a grand equestrian entertainment, in which a great many European sensations will be introduced, among which is a young lady sliding down a wire by her tenth a distance of over 200 feet. entire exhibition is one of the most exciting character and entirely novel in every respect. Expressmen Liable.

Mr. A. S. Medrill, the popular expressman of Brunswick, Me., writes us on May 15, 1833, as follows: "Having been severely afflicted for about two years with inflammation of the kidpeys and bladder, so called by my physicians, suffered with distressing pains in my back and retention of urine, caused by a stoppage of the neck of the bladder, and a complication of other diseases. I was hardly able to attend to my business, and at times would be completely it demanded my attention fifteen or twenty times per night, and at times it would seem impossible for me to ride down to the depot on my wagon, for every jar from the wagon would almost seem to take my life. Having failed to obtain relief, I mustly consulted our druggist, Dr. Merryman, of Brunswick, and requested him to furnish me with the most reltable and speedy cure for such sickness, for I was suffering too much for beman nature to endure long. The doctor recommended me to use Hunt's Remedy, as it had been used with remarkable success in a good many cases in Branswick and vicinity. I purchased a bottle, and received such great relief that I continued, and had not used two bottles before I began to improve beyond my expectations. The pains in my kidneys and loins disappeared. I gained strongth, and my water began to pass naturally, and I was able to sleep soundly, and obtain the greatly needed rest which for a long time I could not. I am fully restored to health, and can attend to my business. Thanks to Hunt's Remedy for my restoration, and I highly recommend it to all who are troubled with kidney complaints."

Could Not Lift a Pound.

The above are the words of Mrs. Harriet Bailey, of Putnan, Connecticut. She writes May 3d, 1833: "I have been troubled with kidney and liver disease for two years. I suffered severely in the back and loins. Before taking your wonderful medicine, Hunt's Remedy, I could not lift a pound. After giving it a fair trial, I began to improve, and can now truly say it was a Godsend to me.' as I am now able to do my household work and enjoy the hest of health. I have recommended Hunt's Remedy to two of my neighbors, who have been greatly benefited by it. This letter I send voluntarily, with the hope that it will be the means of inducing some sufferer to use Hunt's Remedy, and he cured as I have been."
